DR. KATHRYN E. JEFFERY

Superintendent/President
Santa Monica College

Kathryn E. Jeffery, Ph.D., was appointed to the position of Superintendent and President of Santa Monica College (SMC) in November 2015, and took office as CEO of California's leading transfer institution in February 2016. Dr. Jeffery comes to SMC after serving nearly eight years as president of Sacramento City College (SCC).

Dr. Jeffery possesses over three decades of diverse higher education experience—encompassing roles as professor, counselor, and administrator—from arts and educational leadership education, to student services and Career Technical Education (CTE). She is a passionate advocate for higher education, and one who takes pride in a student-centered approach to leadership and decision-making. Throughout her career, she has championed the development of community college curriculum, programs, and services that promote student access, persistence, and success. She led the development of educational programs that support Science, Technology, Engineering, and Math (STEM) education at Hennepin Technical College in Minnesota, and at SCC; as well as the launch of a bachelor's degree program at the College of Southern Nevada.

Prior to serving as president of SCC, Dr. Jeffery was President of Hennepin Technical College; Provost/Chief Campus Administrator at the College of Southern Nevada in Las Vegas; Vice President of Columbia College in the Yosemite Community College District; Dean for Faculty and Staff Diversity/Development and Dean for Student Services at the California Community Colleges Chancellor's Office.

Dr. Jeffery has comprehensive knowledge of community college-related issues, due in large part to her rich professional experience in academic and student affairs programs and services. She holds a Ph.D. in Educational Administration with an emphasis in Community College Leadership from the University of Texas at Austin, an M.S. in Applied Behavioral Studies in Education (Counseling) from Oklahoma State University and a B.M.E. (Bachelor of Music Education) with a major in piano and minor in voice from Oklahoma State University. A lover of the arts—especially music—Dr. Jeffery is also a talented classical musician.

Her transition into administration came after twenty years of higher education teaching experience. Dr. Jeffery gained tenure as a faculty member at SCC in the Counseling department, taught as an adjunct faculty member in the Humanities and Fine Arts division, and served as an adjunct professor of graduate studies in Educational Leadership at Drexel University, Sacramento; CSU-Stanislaus; and the University of Nevada-Las Vegas.

Dr. Jeffery is very active on professional and community boards: she is a member of the President's Round Table of African American CEOs, and on the American Association of Community Colleges (AACC) Special Commission on Structured Pathways. Past involvement on nationwide and regional boards include her service on the AACC Commission on Academic, Student, and Community Development (ASCD).

Dr. Jeffery serves on the Board of Directors of the Santa Monica College Foundation, the Broad Stage at the SMC Performing Arts Center, and the Human Relations Council of Santa Monica.

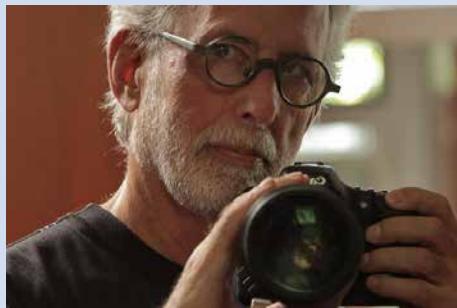

THE PRESIDENTIAL MEDALLION

The 3½-inch-diameter Santa Monica College Presidential Medallion bears the official College seal. The Medallion, also known as a Chain of Office, is customarily given to a new president at the time of investiture. The Medallion is worn with presidential regalia during official ceremonies as a sign of authority, continuity, and allegiance to the institution. It is symbolic of the President's guardianship over the Mission and resources of the College.

A Presidential Medallion was conferred on Dr. Kathryn E. Jeffery by the Santa Monica Community College District Board of Trustees at her Presidential Investiture ceremony on June 14, 2016, which coincided with the 2016 Commencement Ceremony.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

Frank Stiefel
Director/Producer

Frank Stiefel was born in New York City. He is a product of the New York Public School system and attended the evening division of The City College of New York.

At the age of 19, he established the New York based Stiefel & Company Inc. to represent commercial photographers. The company shifted its focus to represent commercial directors in the 1970s. By the 1980s, the company opened an office in Los Angeles and moved into the production of television commercials. During his years as an executive producer, Stiefel served on both the east and west coast boards of the Association of Independent Commercial Producers. He is the only person to be elected twice to serve as the national president. Stiefel is also a two-time past chairman of the AICP Show at the Museum of Modern Art.

In 2002, he merged Stiefel & Company with the international production company RadicalMedia. Stiefel continued as executive producer and also produced a number of advertising sponsored television programs.

Over the years, Stiefel produced short subject documentaries. Several have been honored at the Toronto Film Festival, Edinburgh Film Festival, Berlin Film Festival, Sundance Film Festival and others.

In 2009, he left RadicalMedia to direct a documentary based on his mother's life. Ingelore was honored by the International Documentary Association and the Museum Of Modern Art. The film also appeared in 30 international film festivals and was acquired by HBO.

In 2016, Stiefel completed Heaven Is A Traffic Jam on the 405, a documentary based on the life of artist Mindy Alper. The documentary film premiered at The Broad Stage at the Santa Monica College Performing Arts Center and has gone on to a very successful festival run. In April, Heaven Is A Traffic Jam on the 405 became the only film ever to win both the Audience and Critics prize at the prestigious Full Frame Documentary Festival.

Stiefel served on the Santa Monica College Foundation Board from 1998-2016; he was President for six years.

He lives in Santa Monica with his wife BJ. His daughters Hannah and Sofie live nearby.

GRADUATING STUDENT SPEAKER

John Abughattas Taking a Philosophical Approach

At age 14, John Abughattas became severely ill with ulcerative colitis, a disease that inflames the inner lining of the large intestine. The chronic pain prevented him from attending classes, so he accepted weekly packets of homework, determined not to let his illness impede him. Despite being set apart from his fellow students and with limited support from his teachers, he still graduated from high school.

John's lonely path of learning brought him to Santa Monica College. The first place he went was the Center for Students with Disabilities, "where the kindest people on campus helped me figure out a way to make college work with my condition," he said. He finally felt part of a community

He majored in philosophy, pursuing answers to the existential questions that had haunted him since his colitis began. He also made time to volunteer, even though balancing his condition with his classes was sometimes a challenge. He worked with Junior State of America, which promotes civic discourse, and became a COPE Health Scholar, helping patients at the California Hospital Medical Center. He also served as president of the SMC Philosophy Club.

John—accepted at UCLA, UC Berkeley, and Columbia University—is trying to decide where to go. He is considering a law degree and a PhD in philosophy, to pursue an academic career that explores the intersections of the two. He graduates from SMC with an Associate degree in General Science.

GRADUATING STUDENT PROFILE

Rayford Brown Journey Into the Sunlight

At a young age, Rayford Brown was taken away from his parents. After serving in the Marine Corps, he had decent jobs, but all that would change when the Great Recession hit. For the first time since 1979, he found himself unemployed and unable to find work.

A friend encouraged him to “do something new”—say, in the renewable/solar energy field. Rayford enrolled at a ‘career institute,’ but his successful completion meant little because the institute was not accredited.

He couldn’t get a catalog at LA Trade Tech. So he came to Santa Monica College, where he got his catalog, which he took as a sign. Rayford was homeless at the time, and based on his 0.49 GPA from attending SMC more than two decades ago, had been placed on academic probation.

“I was a little disheartened,” says Rayford. But he dug in. A year and a half later, in 2013, he was on the Dean’s list. “SMC is the best thing that ever happened to me!”

He graduates with an Associate in Science in Solar Photovoltaic Installation and an AS in Recycling and Resource Management. He plans to establish a company to provide energy efficiency consulting services.

“As long as you don’t give up on yourself, and wake up every day, you have a chance,” says Rayford.

Micca Cao The Future is All There is

Micca Cao says her childhood was a nightmare—but that she received a new lease on life when she came to Santa Monica College.

She worked in an import and export company owned by her father’s friend in China, for three years, “like a robot”. She signed up for weekend International English Language Testing System (IELTS) classes and began to research schools overseas and finally decided to come to the U.S. She managed the entire process on her own, and, after one year, received her acceptance letter from Santa Monica College.

Micca ended up at SMC because she missed the deadline for Pasadena City College. She calls it “the most beautiful mistake she ever made in her life.”

At SMC, Micca joined the Phi Theta Kappa Honor Society (PTK), was elected as a PTK officer, and served as the 2016-2017 Associated Students Director of Student Advocacy.

There are three important things Micca says she learned at SMC: confidence, responsibility, and gratitude. She graduates with an Associate in Arts in Public Policy and has been accepted into all the University of California campuses she applied to, including UCLA and UC Berkeley. She would like to be a diplomat and build bridges between China and the U.S.

GRADUATING STUDENT PROFILE

Isabel Castillo Leap of Faith

While still in high school, Isabel Castillo was detained by the United States Border Patrol in an ‘icebox’—a temporary holding cell in extremely cold, unkempt conditions for undocumented immigrants—for helping her brother cross into the U.S. She then spent two months in foster care before going home, and lost all her scholarships. But she never gave up.

Immigrating here from Peru when she was 6, Isabel is a DREAMer and a sexual assault survivor. Yet she sees life with hope and opportunity.

“Through this life experience, I learned strength and resiliency to never let anything beat me down. If I can go days unable to sleep and under anxiety of my future, I can survive any assignment in college.”

At SMC, Isabel found a community that pushed her to succeed. “My SMC professors and counselors helped me believe in myself,” she says.

She is involved in several of SMC’s student support programs, including Adelante, Scholars, and EOPS. She also joined the SMC Honor Council committee, and as an Associated Students commissioner and interim director, she helped establish GEN-C, SMC’s first gender equity center.

“Isabel is dynamic and her enthusiasm is contagious,” says English professor Mario Padilla. “She will no doubt achieve all her goals because the centrifugal force of her energy is unstoppable.”

Isabel graduates with an Associate degree in Communication and Media Studies. She plans to attend the University of Southern California as a communication major, and hopes to work in the entertainment and journalism field.

Tamara Mmbuka Giving Back to the Community

Nairobi-born Tamara Mmbuka was 6 when her family immigrated to the United States. She returned to Kenya during high school, and came back to the U.S. facing financial challenges to her education. Her mom encouraged her to attend SMC. “I remember the first day, thinking this is a good decision.”

Tamara recalls the moment she decided to become a science major. “I was watching National Geographic, and they were talking about the lotus effect and materials engineering,” she says. “I thought, ‘I definitely need that in my life.’”

Tamara was active in SMC’s STEM programs, and selected for an engineering internship in the Autonomous Systems Engineering Academy Program. She was also chosen for the renowned CCCP peer-mentoring program at UCLA, where she networked with “people who were willing to not only share, but also understood the difficulties that I faced as a female minority in STEM.”

This summer, Tamara will be a Dale Ride intern in Washington, D.C., working with U.S. Representative Katherine Clark.

“Tamara is passionate about learning and civic engagement,” says STEM counselor Jose Cue. “She is a great inspiration and role model to future students.”

Tamara graduates with an Associate degree in General Science, and plans to major in chemical engineering at the University of California, San Diego. She hopes to work at the intersection of science and public policy.

GRADUATING STUDENT PROFILE

Lily Och Stepping Forward

Lily Och was 14 and spoke no English when her family moved to the United States from Guatemala. Being a teenager was hard enough, but being an immigrant with little English made everything worse. "People would actually come up to me and tell me to go back where I came from," said Lily.

Her father was deported to Guatemala, leaving her and her brother with their mother. To help support them, Lily worked as a secretary while attending South Gate High School, where she graduated in 2014.

"My counselor told me SMC was the best place for me to come and learn and practice my English," said Lily. "Coming here turned out to be the best choice I could make."

Lily picked political science as her major to "help me do what I like to do, which is helping others." She works as assistant to the Director of SMC's Public Policy Institute (PPI), is an intern with the Santa Monica Commission on the Status of Women, was twice elected President of MEChA, and served as Treasurer for the Pre-Law Society.

She was also a 2015-16 Fellow of the leadership-development program Young People For (YP4) Fellowship. "I was able to go back to Guatemala for the first time and work with my community there," said Lily. "We were able to open the first library in our town."

Lily plans to attend CSU Long Beach, where she will focus on global politics, political science, and international relations.

Matthew Seifert Finishing What You Started

Matthew Seifert attended SMC in the late 1980s, then returned in 2016. "I grew up in Mar Vista," said Matt. "My dad was a pastor for a conservative Lutheran group."

At 20, an older friend and mentor encouraged Matt to buy a house, not a new car. "We pulled funds together every way we could to buy a house in Sylmar," he said.

Matt worked in law enforcement for more than a decade and a half, but with disabilities, including vision problems, he decided to concentrate on real estate.

The Great Recession hit. "Our properties lost their value, renters stopped paying the rents, we had bills we couldn't pay," he said. He relied on his faith to get through. "Nothing can take my faith from me."

Today, Matt manages several properties. He is a stay-at-home dad to a teenager and twin tweens, and moving his mother into his home after his father's recent death.

To accommodate his vision problems, SMC's Center for Students with Disabilities (DSPS) arranged for a family member to take class notes. "Leticia Montoya was really great in getting all this arranged," said Matt. "I'm also really grateful to my counselor, Robin Ramsdell, who inspired me to move forward and persevere whenever I had my doubts."

Matt graduates with honors and an Associate degree in Liberal Arts-Social & Behavioral Science, with plans for a Bachelor degree in business with an emphasis in finance or accounting through the CSU online program.

CORSAIR OVERTURE & CONCERTO GROSSO

Santa Monica College is not unusual in playing Elgar's Pomp & Circumstance as the academic procession enters Corsair Field at commencement ceremonies each year. But the College has put its own unique musical stamp on commencement since 2000 by playing two pieces composed by SMC Music Professor Dr. David Goodman—one of which was written specifically for SMC.

Dr. Goodman's Corsair Overture was written in 2000 for SMC's 70th anniversary celebration and was premiered at the Santa Monica Civic Auditorium by the SMC Symphony and the SMC Concert Chorale, conducted by Dr. James Smith. The text for this piece is an excerpt from Lord Byron's epic poem of the same name. Corsair, which means "pirate" in French, is the mascot of Santa Monica College.

Dr. Goodman's Concerto Grosso is from his score for the 1997 film Darkness Into Light, which won awards at the Houston International Film Festival.

Dr. Goodman has taught theory, musicianship, and composition at SMC since 1997. He was awarded the first SMC Ilona Katz Chair of Excellence in Music in 2001, and was appointed to his second Chair of Excellence in 2007.

THE ACADEMIC APPAREL

The traditional attire worn at commencement had its beginnings in the Middle Ages, when the university first developed as an institution of higher learning. The most important centers of intellectual life in the 10th Century were the monasteries. The relative stability of the monastic life left monks free to develop systematic graded education for the first time in Western society.

In the United States, as a result of its English heritage, caps and gowns have been used since Colonial times. Around 1885, there was a widespread student movement in America to wear caps and gowns at commencement ceremonies. The graduating students felt a need for significant and dignified apparel for the occasion. The faculty members were quick to approve this practical and dignified graduation dress, and soon members of the faculty adopted the custom of wearing caps, gowns, and hoods.

The colors of the academic dress have a significance deeply rooted in the tradition of academic life and are specified by a uniform code maintained by the American Council on Education. Doctoral gowns are full, with bell-like sleeves. The front is marked by velvet panels, and the sleeves are marked by three velvet bars. While most gowns are black with black velvet, one variation is to replace black velvet with velvet in the discipline color. A second variation is a colored gown, usually of the university's colors. Master's gowns, also black, are longer than Bachelor's and Associate's gowns.

Caps are black and are usually mortar boards with tassels. Doctors of Philosophy wear gold tassels, usually of metallic thread; other degrees wear black or discipline colors.

All hoods specify the level of degree, the discipline studied, and the awarding institution. First, degree level is signified by the size of the hood, with Bachelor's smallest, Master's larger, and Doctor's quite large and of a different shape. The width of the velvet trim also conveys the degree. Second, the discipline is indicated by the color of the trim edging the hood to form the throat over the gown. Finally, the color of the hood's lining specifies the awarding institution. Discipline colors include white for arts, gold for science, light blue for education, dark blue for philosophy, and so forth.

PROUD TO BE SMC MOMENTS OF 2016-2017

- ▶ Santa Monica College retained its leadership position as California's No. 1 community college in transferring students to the University of California for the 26th consecutive year. In 2015-2016, SMC transferred 1,097 students—an all-time record high—to University of California campuses. SMC also held the top spot for transfers to the UC and California State University (CSU) systems combined. Plus, SMC continues to be No. 1 in transfers to the University of Southern California (USC) and Loyola Marymount University (LMU)!
- ▶ The U.S. Department of Education awarded SMC a five-year, $6 million grant to expand STEM programs and increase the number of Hispanic and low-income community college students interested in pursuing a STEM career or transfer to a four-year campus in a STEM major. The new grant will help develop an engineering program at SMC, establish articulation agreements to ease transfer, expand student support services, and more!
- ▶ Other exciting grants received this year were a two-year grant—also from the U.S. Department of Education—to help expand SMC programs in foreign languages and cultures, and give students the knowledge and skills needed for 21st-century careers in the global marketplace; and a four-year pilot STEM Teacher Prep program that partners SMC with the UCLA Teacher Education Program to develop a pathway for students to earn a Bachelor degree from UCLA, plus a teaching credential and bilingual certification.
- ▶ Measure V, a $345 million bond measure for the upgrade of several aging facilities on SMC's main campus—as well as for joint-use projects with the Santa Monica-Malibu Unified School District and the City of Santa Monica—passed with 64 percent voter approval!
- ▶ SMC received a $2 million Award for Innovation in Higher Education—in partnership with Arizona State University—from the California Department of Finance to develop innovative technology tools that help students navigate college and reach their goals faster.
- ▶ A gorgeous physical education facility opened on the SMC main campus this spring. The new Core Performance Center features a fitness center, dance studios, classrooms, a climbing wall, and more!
- ▶ SMC students and programs won a slew of awards in debate, film, theatre, athletics, journalism, and more. To name only a few: "Spaghetti Romance," an SMC student film co-produced with CinemadaMare, became the third SMC film to be accepted into the American Pavilion at the 2017 Cannes Film Festival; the SMC Debate Team won many state- and national-level tournament awards, including eight awards at the Phi Ro Pi nationals; and both the men's and women's basketball teams made the playoffs!

Change their lives. Change yours.

While Santa Monica College offers one of the most affordable educations in the nation, the ever-rising costs of texts and supplies are often more than tuition itself. Show students that you believe in their ability to change the world. Because, together we will.

100% of your tax deductible contribution will provide direct support to our students.

Give a gift today or donate online at santamonnicacollegefoundation.org or contact our offices: 310.434.4215.
